

Britain's Temperatures in Summer and Winter

In the _____ in the UK the weather is hottest in the _____ of the country and coolest in the _____ of the country. This is because the south of the UK is closer to the _____, which is the warmest place on Earth. This is because the _____'s rays are focused on the Equator all _____ round.

In the _____ in the UK the weather is warmest in the _____ of the country and coldest in the _____ of the country. This is because the west of the UK is closer to the _____, which is a warm sea, because of a current called the North _____ Drift. The east is cold because the North Sea is a _____ sea.

Word Box

Summer	Sun	Atlantic Ocean	Winter	Atlantic	East
Cold	Equator	West	North	Year	South